[Image] Promising review: "These slippers are amazing! They're the best slippers I've ever owned! I've never owned a pair of slippers that didn't fit my feet well.

I wear them almost all day and it's the most comfortable.

The cushion is so I can get a good amount of use out of them.

I've also been working out at home, so I have not had any problems with my back.

I also love that they have a nice soft lining around my toes and calves.

For many folks, a trip to Target can be a fun way to indulge in a little retail therapy. However, a shopping spree doesn't necessarily have to cost an arm and a leg. In fact, the retailer offers a number of excellent deals and perks, so as long as you know where to look. With this in mind, you'll be pleased to know that consumers can easily get free stuff from Target for essentially very little effort on their end. And despite what you may be thinking, it's not one of those deals that's too good to be true.

For one, the retailer has recently partnered with Sampler, a platform designed to help people (a.k.a. subscribers) discover new products. As part of the collaboration, Sampler sends free Target Insider Boxes to qualified customers. In exchange, all you have to do is answer a few questions and provide your honest review of the items in each shipment-it's that easy.

To see if you qualify, you'll need to sign up on Sampler's site and fill out a questionnaire. From there-assuming you've been approved-prepare to receive a box filled with curated products based on your demographic and the answer to a series of questions. The items are chosen based on your preferences and the answers you provide.
